Business Outline

Since the establishment of the company in 1986, EON International Corporation, as a trading company, is specified in the air and defense market.

Due to the increased importance for today's society needs, we continuously strive to provide high quality products and support. We are proud of assisting their demands for more improved search and rescue products used for the disaster in the ocean, in the mountain and others.

We will continue to strengthen our close relationship with many top companies in Japan and overseas. We are keeping the high grade business with defense, firefighting, police, salvage, disaster prevention, medical care, etc. It is our goal to try our best to contribute safety of people.

SUPPORT FOR DISASTER RELIEF WORK

Our wide variety of products and services would be of a great help for helicopter rescue missions during the disaster relief work, the mountains fire extinguish, as well as for national security missions to high level armor system onboard aircrafts and vessels.

EON International is designated by Ministry of Defense, Japan Coast Guard, prefectural and metropolitan fire department, police department, other national agencies and local governments as a supplier.

Due to increasing demand of the mountain fire extinguish, we provide "Bambi Bucket", which is the best solution for helicopter firefighting.

As a result, it becomes an integrated partner as well established relationship of mutual trust with Ministry of Defense, and most of prefectural governments throughout Japan.

VARIETY OF PRODUCTS AND SERVICES TO AIRLINE INDUSTRIES

We are the largest after-market supplier for FAA-PMA parts for GE, Pratt & Whitney, and Rolls-Royce Engine, also OEM parts for Boeing and Airbus of the commercial airline market. PMA parts are rapidly becoming the desired alternative to OEM parts by "Meet or Exceeding OEM standards" at substantial cost saving. Japanese major airlines select us with long-term and well established relationship of mutual trust. In addition, we now have the business dealing with ANA for the variety of tools for scheduled and preventative maintenance program with authorized foreign manufacturer and repair centers.

DEFENSE BUSINESS RELATED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Recently, the threats surrounding Japan are increasing rapidly and we are facing the problem of national security for the territory of Japan. Under these circumstances, EON International supplies many kinds of equipment which would suits the need of missions of our customer. They are for aircrews, for fixed- and rotor-wing crafts, and for base security. Also, we provide high-tech avionics navigation system.

Taking advantage of our accumulated experience in foreign network and specialized knowledge, we are specialized in the sales of the ballistic resistance protective material and systems in personnel, and onboard aircraft and vessels as an appointed supplier of government and law enforcement.

We are dealing with these suppliers in our capacity as purchasing agent for customers who aim at reducing their vender base. Eon International has representatives in the U.S., Canada, EU countries that help negotiate prices and coordinate delivery. To provide the high level customer support, we set up our network systems with foreign and domestic companies.

Most customers desire our assistance in managing, sourcing and procurement in the cost-effective manner. Eon International makes every effort to meet that customer needs. Our goal is customer's satisfaction.
